

EQUAL TO THE OCCASION.

"These books, doctor, are my best friends, And with them for hours I commune;
The spirits of the authors come To loiter in the dim old room!"

A smile the doctor's thin lips stirred, As one by one the books he shut;
"I notice, Mrs. Gray, he said, "That many volumes are uncured."

She looked at him with that sly glance Which such a charm to beauty lends, And, with a little laugh she said,
"Ah, sir, I never cut my friends."

The Maiden's Mistake.

"There are fish in the sea," said the maiden fair, "As good as ever were caught, so there!"
And she tilted her head, and away went he.

And she found, although there were fish in the sea,
As good as ever were brought to land, They wouldn't come out at her command.
And the beautiful maid grew pale and sad,
And wished she had kept the one she had.

VARIETY.

A little nonsense now and then Is relished by the wisest men.
—Hubibras.

When a man snores in his sleep, is the sound vocal or instrumental?
Motto for a young man starting a monachery: "Down in front."

Inquirer: "What is the extreme penalty of bigamy?" Two mothers-in-law.

When the button comes off the back of a man's shirt his choler begins to rise.

There can never be any objection to a cigar manufacturer puffing his own goods.

The office that is seeking the man can't find him, owing to the scrambling crowd of office-seekers.

A New York lawyer agreed to tel the truth for four years if Harrison was elected. He's been obliged to give up his law practice.

A simile is generally supposed to be a species of composition, but it is more of a paradox. You knock one of its eyes out to make it smile.

Tubbs: "I flatter myself that honesty is printed on my face." Grubbs: "Well—er—yes, perhaps —with some allowance for typographical errors."

Little Nellie was reading a lesson about ice to her grandmother, who asked: "Do you know what ice is, Nellie?" "Yes, grandmother, it's water fast asleep."

"Father," said Willie, who had just been corrected, "that strap is hereditary, isn't it?" "I don't know that it is." "But it descends from father to son, doesn't it?"

The multiplication of 987,654,321 by 45 gives 44,444,444.445. Reversing the order and multiplying 123-456,789 by 45 a result equally odd is obtained—5,555,555.505.

Bashful Young Man: "Ahem—Sally—ahem"—Sally (encouragingly):
"Well, George? "B. Y. M.: "Sally, do you s'pose your ma would be willin' to be my mother-in-law?"

The man whose motto was "Take care of No. 1" was awfully perplexed when he was made the father of twins. He was obliged to take as much care of No. 2 as he did of No. 1.

"Gentlemen," said the candidate for office, as he squirted a stream of tobacco juice on the pavement below, "my character is spotless."
"Then it's a pity," said some one in the crowd, "that you can't wear it for a shirt!"

"So you enjoyed your visit to the menagerie, did you?" inquired a young man of his adored one's little sister. "Oh, yes. And do you know we saw a camel there that screwed its mouth and eyes around awfully, and sister said it looked exactly as you do when you are reciting poetry at evening parties."

Blinks: "Hold on! What's your hurry?" Jinks: "Nearly driven to death. Half a bushel of letters to answer this morning and no one to help do it." "What has become of that pretty girl typewriter you had?"
"She's no use any more, she went and got married." "You don't say so! Whom did she marry?" "Me."

Agent (with mouse-trap): "Good morning, madam. Allow me to show you our patent, non-corrosive, copper-riveted mouse-traps, warranted to — Lady: "I'm very sorry, sir, but we haven't a mouse about the premises." Agent: "Yes, but our firm offers to furnish a dozen mice with each trap as a special inducement. We guarantee satisfaction, madam."

"Adolphus, d'ye know that I'm a little vexed at Miss Simmins?"
"What happened, Arthur, old boy?"
"Well, you know I pride myself on my singing. We were at the piano.
"I'll sing one more song and then go home," I said. "Was it late?"
"About midnight." "And what did she say?" "She said, 'Can't you go home first?' " "And did you?" "Yes, Adolphus. I tell you I'm a little vexed about it."

"No, sir," said a barber to a suspicious-looking customer. "I used to give credit, but I never do now. In fact, nobody asks for it." "How's that?" "Well, you see, I had a set of customers who used to ask me to chalk it down. I got tired of keeping books, and I adopted a new system. Whenever I shaved one of these old standbys, I put a little nick in his nose with my razor, and kept tally in that way. They didn't want to run bills after that." There was a tremor in the customer's voice as he asked from beneath the lather, "Do you object to being paid in advance?"

A PARROT MAKES TROUBLE.

The Bird's Talk Embarrasses a Street-Car Full of People.

"Ah, there, baby!" screamed the parrot, hid behind a paper which Willie had placed over the cage.
The old maid looked startled, and a grin appeared on the faces of several of the other passengers.
"Oh, mamma," creaked the bird.
The old maid glared at each passenger, highly indignant.
"Where did you get that hat, I'd like to know?" went on the irrepresible bird.

The clerical passenger looked up in alarm and then felt his hat in hasty confusion. Every one noted the action, and a ripple of suppressed laughter went over the car.
"Ah, there, Whiskers!"
The clerical man leaped to his feet and frowned at a smooth-faced young man near the front.
"I won't be insulted," he cried.

"Ding, ding; two more fares out of the company's pockets." The conductor flushed and hastened in the car from the back platform.

"Who said that?" he demanded.
Willie looked as demure as an angel.

"Johnny, get your hair cut." An old man with long hair made a precipitate departure from the car.

At Broad street Willie lifted the paper, grabbed the cage and got off the car.

Then the passengers tumbled.—

Japan Items.

New nickel silver coins to the value of $150,000 was put in circulation on the 1st of June.

The Tokio City Government Office has sanctioned the establishment of the Japan Life Insurance Company (limited), with a capital of 200,000 yen. The charter applied for is for fifty years, and the office will be situated at Echizenbori Nichome, Kyobashi.

The indemnity received from the United States Government on account of the Ikeshima affair ($15,000 gold) amounting in Japanese currency to yen 19,950, has been transmitted to the Prefect of Nagasaki. The money will be distributed as follows: Yen 3,500, yen 3,200, yen 3,200, and yen 2,400 respectively to the fathers of four deceased persons, and sums varying from yen 150 to yen 2,300 each to seven injured persons.

Electric Storm at Sea.

An electric storm was encountered by the steamer Alene, of the Alta Line, on her last trip from Hayti, and during its progress the man on the lookout saw an immense ball of fire fall from the heavens. The ball struck the maintop of the vessel, glided down the rigging and danced around the deck. Before the lookout's eyes had recovered from the flash of light, there was a fearful clap of thunder. The ship rocked as if she had struck something solid.
The only damage done was the smashing of the maintopmast.

Hard on the Girls.

United States Consul Griffin, stationed at Sydney, N. S. W., says the aborigines of New Britain have a peculiar custom of confining their girls in cages until they are old enough to be married. The cages are made of palm trees, and the girls are put into them when two or three years of age. These cages are built inside of the houses and the girls are never allowed to leave the house under any circumstances. The houses are closely fenced in with a sort of wicker-work made of reeds.
The girls are said to grow up strong and healthy in spite of these disadvantages.
